NOTICE is hereby given that VITHULDASS HURGOWANDASS, one of the Trustees appointed under the last Will and Testament of the late MANCOOVERBAI, widow of the late Gungadass Vijbhoocandass, and the codicil thereto, has THIS DAY FILED a SUIT against his Co-trustee BAI CASSIBAI, wife of Vithuldass Juggonnath, praying, inter alia, that the said Cassibai may be removed from her office of Trustee, as aforesaid, and some fit and proper person may be appointed as a trustee instead of the said Cassibai to act with the said Vithuldass Hurgowandass as Trustee under the said will and codicil, that the said Cassibai may be ordered to account for her management of the trust estate and to hand over to the said Vithuldass Hurgowandass and such other person as the High Court may appoint Trustee in place of the said Cassibai the whole of the trust estate, and that the said Cassibai may be ordered to make good to the said trust estate all sums of money wrongfully withdrawn or misappropriated by her, as well as all sums of money lost to the said estate by her negligent or wrongful conduct, and that if necessary the estate of the said Mancoovverbai and Gungadass Vizbhoocandass may be administered by and under the direction of the High Court, and that the said Cassibai may be restrained by the order and Injunction of the Court from interfering with or in any way dealing with disposing of or otherwise intermeddling with the property or moneys belonging to the said trust, and a fit and proper person appointed to collect, recover and get in the same and the income thereof. The Bombay Gazette

TUESDAY, MARCH 14, 1882.

THE claim by the manager of the Rajputana Railway (metre gauge) to more than a mileage share of the through rates, on the ground that the working expenses of his line are so much greater than those of the B. B. and C. I. Railway (5' 6" gauge) has given rise to considerable controversy, in which many authorities well qualified to add to the stock of information have taken part. We have been at some trouble to endeavour to ascertain for ourselves how the case stands, and our readers may like to know the conclusions we have arrived at. The Rajputana State Railway was constructed on the metre gauge with a view of saving capital outlay ; this, no doubt, has been successfully accomplished, though to what extent above what a broad gauge would have cost is not stated. We believe, however, it is not far wrong to say that, all other things being equal, a broad-gauge line over the same track of country costs about 15 to 20 per cent. more, while its power is about 2½ times as great. These proportions, however, are modified by the special conditions of the two railways we are considering. The B. B. and C. I. Railway having had a great deal of feeder roads or branch railways. The cost of bringing goods to the railway was so great as to restrict the export of grain or movement of traffic from districts far from the trunk lines ; on the other hand, branch lines now have an outlet provided for their traffic at once. The mileage cost is generally much smaller on short lines, from their being constructed only where large rivers and other great obstacles need not often be encountered. If it be desirable to encounter such obstacles, it is possible the traffic is sufficient to pay for them. The lines can be made, and are shown to pay, in a shorter time than the original lines. The wisdom which has proposed the adoption of a guarantee for a shorter period than at first can be extended with advantage to apply to branch lines, and irrespective of the gauge, which can best be settled locally by a consensus of qualified opinion, and on a consideration of the interests involved. Branches could be best undertaken on the guarantee of the local Government in such cases ; but to make the plan completely successful local Governments should have a right to their own land revenue, which is greatly increased by railways, and against which they could guarantee. This could be managed if the Imperial Budget was made up of contributions in lump-sums from the local Government Budgets, settled on by agreement annually, instead of the reverse being the process, and local responsibility rendered impossible, either in detail or in the gross, except in theory. The administrator and financier who will show us how this can be carried out will do more for us than wrangling over the gauge of railways will ever bring about. While the credit of the Government will not then be endangered on what, compared with the generally important interests it is called on to decide, may be justly called trifling details, the impulse given to the development of railways will pass all calculation. The efforts of the Government, which in the main have been ably directed up to the present time, to introduce railways, have had to contend with a seriously defective organisation. The administrative machinery now requires a re-fit, and if the repairs are made carefully and with intelligence, the Supreme Government can then float their craft with little trouble for the future, and a great deal of profit to every one in India, and in England besides.

Rate per ton of freight which would just suffice to ensure the recovery of the working expenses and the interest on the capital (c) divided by (d)	9·7 pies	12·6 pies	17·2 pies.

The rate of interest entered above is 5 per cent. for the B. B. and C. I. R., guaranteed by the Indian Government, 4 per cent. for the Rajputana line, the rate at which the Government of India can easily raise money in these days, and 6 per cent. for the Gaekwar's line, it being supposed that the guarantee of a Native State may not attract capital at a lower figure. This interest, together with the working expenses if always recovered by the rates charged, will satisfy a great many investors. The average rate charged is known with almost perfect accuracy. Considerable expense is incurred in keeping an account of every weight moved, and the distance it travels ; the one is multiplied by the other for every consignment of goods, and also for the average weights of all passengers, parcels, livestock, &c., from and to every station. These figures, all added together, give what is called the total freight ton-mileage, and the totals for the period ending the 30th June, 1880, are given opposite (d) above. The total working expense, plus interest on capital, then, divided by the total ton-mileage of freight, gives the average freight rate per ton mile, which will just pay, or in other words, which will satisfy investors, if the results are likely to continue. Should continuance become almost a certainty, the property will become a desirable investment. The figures we give are for the most paying half of one year only. The actual outcome of dividing the sum of the working expenses and interest as noted above by the freight ton-mileage is that the average rates are, as shown to be, 9·7, 12·6, and 17·2 pies for the B. B. and C. I. R., the R. S. R., and the Gaekwar's line respectively. Should these rates continue to cover the expenses and interest, and thus continue to pay on the average, shares in the lines would partake of the nature of good security. If they should pay more than this, the excess would be in the nature of a surplus profit, which would also, in the nature of things, greatly attract investors. The credit of the

CULTIVATION OF SCIENCE IN INDIA.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, MARCH. 13.

The Viceroy this evening laid the foundation-stone of a new hall for the Indian Association for the Cultivation of Science, in the presence of a large and distinguished audience. His Excellency, in his speech, alluded to the very liberal donations made by native noblemen in Bengal and other provinces in aid of the institution. He was glad to find that the appeal he made last Saturday had found expression in what he heard to-day of the efforts towards self-help on the part of the natives of India. Lord Ripon concluded by expressing the hope that in time we may see native scientists stand side by side with those of Europe.

The Bombay Volunteers are to be inspected next Saturday afternoon, the 18th inst., by their Honorary Colonel, H. E. the Commander-in-Chief of the Bombay Army. The members of the corps ought to—and we are sure they will—turn out to a man in compliment to General Hardinge, who takes so warm an interest in the Bombay corps and in the Volunteer movement generally. The officers of the corps propose, we believe, to entertain His Excellency and staff, Brigadier-General Carnegy and staff, and the Honorary Colonels of the I. F. and I. Railway Volunteers at dinner on Saturday evening. A rehearsal parade is to take place to-morrow (Wednesday) morning on the ground in front of the Gymkhana, when the movements to be gone through before His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief on Saturday will be practised. The annual inspection by the Brigadier commanding the district is fixed for Saturday, the 25th inst.

The Commander-in-Chief is expected to arrive from Poona on Friday evening.

The annual meeting of the Indo-British Institution was held yesterday afternoon in the Boys' School. The Hon. L. R. Ashburner presided. The Rev. C. Gilder read the report of the committee: after which the prizes were distributed to the children by Mrs. Ashburner. The Hon. Mr. Ashburner then made a short speech, in the course of which he said that H. E. the Governor had written to express his regret that he was unable to be present, and had sent a contribution of Rs. 250 towards the building fund. The Bishop of Bombay had also written to the same effect, and had sent Rs. 300. The President referred to the intention of the Government of India to establish a purely native civil service, and said that that was not an entirely new idea, as for the last three years, by the Secretary of State's order, Government had been prohibited from taking Europeans into the public service. This order was made so that the natives might have a greater share in the Government of the country, and it was a very laudable object. He would warn the boys of the school that the natives were extremely intelligent, industrious, and self-denying, and it was only by these virtues that boys of European descent, but belonging to the country, could hope to compete with them.

His Excellency Sir Donald Stewart, Commander-in-Chief in India, was to inspect the Calcutta Volunteers yesterday.

Lieut. R. A. Burrows, R. A., has been appointed aide-de-camp to Major-General Payn, commanding the Mysore Division.

Deputy Surgeon-General C. D. Madden has been appointed Principal Medical Officer to the Madras Army, in succession to Surgeon-General Home, transferred to Bengal.

Communication by telegraph with Mandalay is reported to be once more interrupted.

From causes which do not appear to be very clearly known M. Drouhet, Governor of Pondicheri, has been recalled by the home Government of France.

Referring to Mr. Justice West's remarks at the Grant Medical College prize delivery on the absence of Mahomedan names from the prize-list, and coupling this state of things with the complaint of influential Mahomedans in Bombay that their co-religionists do not hold their own in the race with the Hindus, and their appeal to Government to do something for the less enterprising section of the population, the Civil and Military Gazette asks:—"Do they expect Government to thrust Mahomedan youths per force into the colleges, and to give them State appointments, whether they are educated or uneducated? The Mahomedans, we repeat, have themselves to blame; and their appeal to Government is contemptible rather than otherwise. As Mr. West reminded his audience at the Grant College, medical science—including anatomy—was at one period, between the Roman decay and the European renaissance, a subject in which the Mahomedans excelled the world."

The Lahore paper is sorry to hear that the through-booking regulations are not quite as satisfactory as the pioneers of the Punjab wheat export trade would wish them to be. Municipal octroi rules also cause quite unnecessary trouble. It is all very well to say that octroi will be refunded on goods transmitted for export. But why, in the case, levy the octroi at all? Goods declared to be intended for export should be allowed to pass on without further question. Fresh consignments of wheat, to the extent of four hundred tons, will presently be booked for London vid Kurrachee, and it is stated that the results in the home markets will be awaited before additional purchases, on a large scale, are made.

...resting paper on the education of children ...n blood in British Burmah has been ...he Rev. Dr. Marks, of the Educational ...angoon. During his whole residence ...urmah Dr. Marks has felt, he says ... of these children was of more ...the country than the instruction ...native children. Before the ...land school existed English ...ed to attend the S. P. G. schools along with native children, and no harm was believed to result from the arrangement. Many persons who are now doing well in Burmah are said to have been educated in this manner. There are now in Rangoon St. Paul's Institution, the High School, the Diocesan, and St. John's College, in all of which Christian boys are received. But for girls very little has yet been done, and there are also a large number of illegitimate children who are left unprovided for. Dr. Marks suggests that for poor and destitute boys a Diocesan Orphanage should be built, which should be managed after the style of the Free School in Calcutta. Towards such an institution the Chief Commissioner has promised Rs. 10,000, if a similar sum can be raised elsewhere. An industrial or technical training should be introduced as soon as possible, and the boys should be drilled as cadets, and encouraged to enlist, or be apprenticed to suitable masters. For girls, it is recommended that a school should be established on somewhat similar lines.

Leo XIII. has addressed a letter of a grave nature to the Italian bishops, in which, after describing the situation as fraught with dangers, he draws their attention to the labours of the enemies of the Church for the destruction of all religion. He denounces those who insist that the Papacy is an enemy to civilisation and the welfare of the people, and declares, on the contrary, that it has always exercised its best influence in their interests. He conjures the bishops to open their eyes to the dangers surrounding them and not to keep silence; to increase the action and encourage the work of the Catholic lay societies throughout the Peninsula; to protest boldly in favour of the temporal independence of the Head of the Church; to organise and develope the Catholic Press at every sacrifice; and to inspire their clergy with full conception of the difficulties to be met.

The Under-Secretary of State for War has notified to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty that in future officers of the Royal Marine forces will be considered as eligible for employment on the personal staff of general officers of the Army as aides-de-camp, when their services are applied for in that capacity. It is, however, to be clearly understood that a general officer has not the absolute choice of an officer who may be technically eligible for his personal staff without the sanction of his Royal Highness the Field Marshal Commanding-in-Chief.

The Italian Commission on Army Reform has decided that the field artillery shall consist of twelve regiments of ten batteries each, and that six field batteries should be formed instead of eight, as proposed by the Minister of War, adding them two by two to the garrisons. The proposal to form mounted artillery was rejected.

Germany, it is known, is the Eldorado of orders and decorations; still it may cause some surprise to hear, on the authority of the new Army List, that the Crown Prince is the happy possessor of no less than 65 stars and crosses. He is followed by his uncle, Prince Charles, who has 55 decorations, and his cousin, Prince Frederick Charles, with 53. Next on the list come General Count Puckler, the Emperor's Chamberlain, with 49, Prince Bismarck with 44, and Count Moltke with 43. Prince Albrecht of Prussia is the possessor of 35, and Field Marshal Count Manteuffel and General Blumenthal can boast of 33 and 32 decorations respectively.

A London paper states that the Council of the Association for the Establishment of an International Monetary Standard have resolved upon holding a public meeting in the City for the purpose of bringing their principles and objects prominently before the citizens of London; and the grave importance of the question, which, they say, affects every branch of trade throughout the country, has induced them, through their President (Mr. Henry Hucks Gibbs), to apply to the Lord Mayor for permission to hold it in the Egyptian-hall of the Mansion-house, under his Lordship's presidency. They further state that the decreasing supply of gold and the large withdrawals of it from England are undoubtedly causing widespread anxiety, and the association had been formed to stimulate inquiry upon the subject and to point out the steps which, in their opinion, are necessary to be taken in the interests of free commerce and the furtherance of international trade. The Lord Mayor complied with the request, and fixed Wednesday, March 8, for the public meeting. Among the speakers were to have been the Governor of the Bank of England (Mr. Grenfell), Mr. Alderman Cotton, M.P., Mr. S. Williamson, M. P., Mr. A. J. Balfour, M.P., Mr. Barclay Chapman, Mr. Samuel Montagu, and others.

Some of the more progressive officers of the artillery branch of the service seem to think that the highly ornate Royal Horse Artillery uniform, which is, probably, the very last survival in the Army of the useless old-style dress, should be limited to a very few batteries, which might be attached to the Household Troops as Artillery of the Guard. There can be no doubt, says Truth, that a sensible tunic of the Hussar type would be a far more suitable dress for a soldier than a jacket so painfully short that rheumatism and lumbago must be the result from its being worn in field-service in winter time.

THE DISMISSED CUSTOMS EMPLOYES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

Sir,—You have already referred to the consternation created amongst the Customs' officials by the abolition of the import duties. And not without cause, involving, as the abolition does to a very large proportion of them, the loss of their appointments, to some of them the sudden and unexpected ruin of their entire career, and to many—a great deal too many unfortunately—a blank future, in which there looms no prospect of employment, untried as they are by training for other walks of life. But we may hope that an appeal to the powers that be to deal generously by those whom they are now throwing out of employment will not fall unheeded.

Of course those who have filled in periods of service entitling them to pension have nothing to complain of, but there are a great many whose periods of service are such that to adhere strictly to the Pension Code is to subject them to great hardship, and it is in the interests of these that the Government is asked to deal generously. Lord Lytton's Government, when curtailing the Public Works Department, gave the retiring officers pensions proportioned to the relative period of service put in by each officer, as well as a bonus representing the present value of the prospective promotion which each officer had. The first of these two courses was justifiable, on the ground that the Pension Fund is really an Insurance Fund, calculated upon the average duration of the lives of Government servants, and that each officer contributes to this fund a portion of his salary, which is not paid to him, but is reserved by the Government as a premium, as it were, upon the officer's life policy. Everybody knows of course that each officer undergoes a medical examination before he is entertained in the service; so that the Government have as reliable data to work upon as any insurance company. The second of the two courses mentioned above was more a matter of grace, though yet not undeserved grace. The courses indicated above were followed in the case of officers who were engineers and accountants, that is, men of superior education and technical training, and men who were highly paid—men, therefore, who would not find it very difficult to obtain employment elsewhere, and who could maintain themselves on the savings from their large incomes for a protracted period. When such men were treated with so much consideration, how much stronger are the claims of the Customs employés on the generosity of the Government, by reason of their helplessness; helplessness caused by the fact that whilst useful to Government in the capacities in which they were employed, they were for that very reason unfitting themselves for service elsewhere, as well as by the fact that the supply of such men exceeds so far the demand in the labour market? The way in which the present Government have dealt with the Afghan refugees also furnishes further arguments, if they are needed, why they should deal generously; for if the Government think that aliens are entitled to the consideration shown them, how much more are their servants entitled to such consideration?

One of the reasons which must have actuated the Government in abolishing the import duties is, no doubt, that the abolition is considered conducive to the general prosperity of the whole community, involving an accession of wealth, and therefore greater stability to the Government. So that if Government do pay away some public money in dealing liberally with the men whose claims are here advocated, it will be expenditure in the right direction, as their dismissal secures to the Government the object for which the policy is inaugurated. This being so, it is earnestly hoped that no cheese-paring, economical policy will prompt the Government to act in other than a generous spirit.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST FIRE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

Sir,—The utter impotence of all efforts to subdue the great fire at Colaba on Friday night has set many an one inquiring into the means at their command to control a possible outbreak at their own places. No reliance should be placed on the opinion of those about the mill, as they are very apt to be careless and intolerant. Nearly all the mills and factories have what those concerned believe to be an effective water service always ready for the purpose of controlling an outbreak of fire; but one might take but odds that they would be found a delusion and a snare in time of need. Many men have many minds, and consequently there are many arrangements of pipes and pumps in many places.

The unfortunate mill which has elicited these reflections had an elaborate system of amply large pipes laid all over the mill and a powerful pumping engine attached, all supplied from a very spacious cast-iron elevated reservoir over the mill; and this could not be utilised, simply because the hydrants were all fixed inside the mill, where no one could breathe or see for dense, hot smoke. In fact, the officers of the mill were actually driven out by the smoke and flames, and when outside there were no means to which they could attach the hose of the pumping engine, delivering 20 times as much water as the municipal toy engines, had to be stopped, and the mill was to all intents and purposes as a place with no engine or pipes. The mistake or oversight here seems now to be very clear; but there is not the slightest reason to doubt that many such oversights exist, which would very probably be discovered and rectified if insurance companies were more careful in their surveys and employed a known experienced engineer to report for them on fire-prevention systems.

INSPECTOR.

THE BOMBAY GYMKHANA SKY RACES.

There was a capital attendance at the sky races on the Sea-face again yesterday. Five races were run, two steeplechases and three on the flat, but not one of them produced anything like a close contest. For the first event, the Gymkhana Steeplechase, four horses started, but one bolted off the course, and two others refused at the first jump, and Dewi, probably the best in the race in any case, had a very easy win. In the second race, the Hunt Pony Steeplechase, Romulus took up the running at the start, and was never headed. Flycatcher was ridden hard, but the weight was too much for her, and she could never get better than second. The other two were never in it with the leaders, but had a race all to themselves for third place, which Paddybird won by half a length. Comet had it all his own way for the Lady's Bracelet, never even being pressed, while the second horse was ridden out. Donald won two heats in succession in the Polo Stakes with the greatest ease; and Fairy King had an equally hollow victory in the "Wind-up Scurry." Details:—

Gymkhana Steeplechase.—For all untrained Arabs and C. B. horses. Catch weights over 11st. S. C. about a mile. Entrance, Rs. 10. Added Rs. 100.

Mr. Robert's nominates Mr. Wilkinson's b a h Dewi, 11st. 7lbs., Mr. Rebew 1
Mr. Rebew's g c b m Dowager, 11st., Mr. N. S. Symons 2
Mr. Kilnwick's g c b m Countess, 11st., Mr. Gawne 3
Mr. H. S. Symons' g p g Cabin-boy, 11st., Mr. Gethyn 0

Cabin-boy bolted off the course directly after the start, and went away at a good pace alongside the railway, his rider being unable to stop him till he was out of sight. Countess and Dowager both refused the first jump, and Dewi, fencing in grand style, had the race all to himself. Mr. Symons and Mr. Gawne got their horses over the first fence later, and had a race for second place, which the former, on Dowager, won rather easily, though Countess got off first. Cabin Boy was not heard of for some time afterwards; but he and his rider finally turned up all right.

Hunt Pony Steeplechase.—For all untrained ponies 13-2 and under. Catch weights over 11st. Other conditions same as in Hunt Steeplechase. S. C. about 1 mile. Entrance, Rs. 10. Added Rs. 80.

Mr. Rivett-Carnac's c cb g Romulus, 11st., Owner 1
Mr. N. S. Symons' b cb m Flycatcher, 11st. 7lbs., Owner. 2
Mr. Rebew's g cb p Paddybird, 11st., Owner 3
Mr. Pendlebury's b cb p Scout, 11st., Mr. Gawne .. 0

Romulus got away first, with Flycatcher in close attendance, Paddybird third, and Scout last; and they kept the same order to the finish, Romulus winning by twenty yards.

Ladies' Bracelet.—For all Arabs and C. B. horses that are bond fide the property of, and have been regularly ridden by, ladies. Catch weights over 11st. Prize, a Bracelet. Winner receives entrance money. Half mile. Entrance, Rs. 10.

Mrs. Comber's b a h Comet, 11st. 7lbs., Mr. Lyon .. 1
Mrs. Best's g a h Fairy King, 11st., Mr. Barton .. 2
Mr. McLeod nominates Mrs. Opitz's b cb h Ali, 11st., Mr. Gethyn 0

Comet won very easily from Fairy King. Only a length separated them at the finish, but the winner scarcely did more than canter, while the second horse was thrashed freely. Ali was a long way out of it.

Gymkhana Polo Stakes.—For all recognised Gymkhana polo ponies 13-2 and under. To be certified, if necessary, by the Honorary Secretary Polo. Catch weights over 10st. 7lbs. Quarter-mile heats without dismounting, Entrance, Rs. 5. Added Rs. 40.

Mr. Lyon's b cb p Donald, 11st 3lbs., Owner 1
Mr. Lyon's g a p Sprite, 10st. 7lbs., Mr. Barton 2
Mr. Rivett-Carnac's c cb p Remus, 10st. 7 lbs., Owner .. 0
N. N. Engineers, 10 minutes. Mr. Mansfield, Owner .. 0

Donald won the two first heats, so it was not necessary to run a third time. Skittles was second in the first heat, but Sprite got next to his stable companion at the second attempt.

Wind-up Scurry.—For all untrained galloways and ponies. 14 hands to carry 11st. 7lbs.; 2 lbs. allowed for every quarter of an inch under. Half mile. Entrance, Rs. 10. Added Rs. 75.

Mr. Ryan's c b g Middlington, 9st. 10lbs., Owner .. 0
Mr. Smyttan's b cb g Spider, 11st. 5lbs., Mr. Symons .. 0

Fairy King won as he liked; Honesty beat Remus by a head for second place.

THE MAHARAJAH OF TRAVANCORE AT KALYAN.

H. H. the Maharajah of Travancore, on returning from his tour in Northern India, was waited upon at Kalyan station, when he arrived there by special train on Saturday morning, by the Chairman and members of the local Municipality, and a large number of other native gentlemen. The Shah, who, a correspondent tells us, was looking a little indisposed on arrival, but "assumed his usual cheerfulness soon after his dinner,"—was conducted to a bungalow which had been specially furnished for his reception. Before his departure for Poona the same afternoon, an address was presented to His Highness from the members of the Municipality and the inhabitants of Kalyan, expressing their loyalty, devotion and gratitude, and praising which the presence of a distinguished native ruler, descended from a long line of illustrious kings, is sure to produce in the native bosom," and assuring His Highness of the memorialists' conviction that in him are "happily blended together a sympathetic regard for native habits and modes of thought, and those liberal and enlightened views which are acquired by a systematic and judicious study of European Science." Dewan Bahadur read a short reply to the address, expressing His Highness's great pleasure at the cordial welcome given him.

THE ATTEMPT ON THE QUEEN'S LIFE.

At the usual morning service on Saturday, the 4th instant, at the Jewish Synagogue, Byculla, a special thanksgiving prayer was offered by the congregation for the recent providential escape of the Queen.

The following is a translation of the Marathi verses read at the Purvo prayer meeting on Sunday last, at Shri Thakoordwar:—

O thou great and merciful God, Thou art the cause of immoveable and moveable things, the Remover of difficulties, the Destroyer of the fear connected with worldly affairs, and the Giver of delight to virtuous persons. Thou art worthy of adoration in the three worlds, and it is a sacred act to sing Thy glorious deeds, which save persons. Thou pervadest the universe, and art the Saviour of sinners, the abode of health and happiness, and the tree which gratifies the desires of Thy devotees, the annihilator of mountains of sin, and the giver of peace to the human mind. O God! make us take delight in remembering Thy name, and exempt us from the successive births and deaths.

A cruel and wicked person, with a view to bring stigma on the unstained glory of the kingdom, attempted, like a butterfly, to extinguish the lamp of sovereignty by murdering our good Queen-Empress, thereby not only wounding the feelings of virtuous persons, but also plunging them into an abyss of sorrow.

The merciful God, who always runs to assist His devotees in the tin e of their troubles, came and stood near Her Majesty, and displayed His glory to Her by warding off the calamity, and thus conferred a great favour upon the people of the Arya Country.

O Thou Ocean of Mercy, Thou camest with speed in time of difficulty to save the Queen-Empress. O Thou beautiful Being, we think Thou art fatigued and therefore the Purvos remember Thy favour.

The calamity was warded off by Thy favour, and this gives great delight to our minds. The Pathari Purvo, both young and old, have assembled at this place to express their obligations to Thee, and Oh, Merciful God! they sincerely pray to Thee and ask a favour of Thee, that such a calamity may not befall Her Majesty again, that she may be protected, and that all her desires be gratified.

May God prolong the life of our beloved and exalted Queen-Empress Victoria, whose supply of the nectar of justice causes the trees of happiness to grow without disease in the houses of her loyal subjects, and who like a good mother, by protecting her subjects, gives always peace to their minds.

THE RECENT FIRE AT COLABA.

The fire at the mill of the Oriental Spinning and Weaving Company, Colaba, was reported yesterday to be completely extinguished. The damage is estimated at seven lakhs of rupees. The fire is now known to have been caused by the machinery getting so heated about the time the mill hands left off working on the evening in question, that the fluff cotton about the rollers was ignited. The fire soon spread and communicated the flames to the cotton and thread on the bobbins. It appears that fire from the friction of the machinery occurs occasionally during working hours, and, when observed in time, can easily be extinguished.

THE KOLHAPORE LIBEL CASE.

In connection with this matter an application was made on Thursday last by the Advocate-General, on behalf of Government, that the attendance of Dr. Joynt (a witness for the prosecution) at the Criminal Sessions of the High Court might be dispensed with, as he was under orders to proceed on duty to Quetta. His Lordship accordingly ordered a commission to issue to the Chief Presidency Magistrate of Bombay to take Dr. Joynt's evidence on Monday in the two cases already committed to the Criminal Sessions. Mr. Webb accordingly took the evidence of Dr. Joynt yesterday, at the Fort Police Court, first in the case against Bal Gangadhar Tilak, editor of the Mahratta newspaper.

Mr. Little, of Messrs. Hearn, Cleveland, and Little, appeared for the prosecution; and Mr. Pherozeshaw M. Mehta, instructed by Messrs. Shapurjee and Thakordas, conducted the defence.

Dr. Christopher Joynt said he had been warned for duty at Quetta, and would proceed thither after he had been examined in the defamation cases. The evidence given by Dr. Joynt in this case was similar to that which he has already given.

The witness, being cross-examined by Mr. Pherozeshaw, said.—It was my duty as civil surgeon of Poona to attend on the Maharajah. When the Maharajah arrived in Poona, Mr. Cox wrote to me to visit His Highness. I understood from the Surgeon-General that the Maharajah was to be under my charge. I went to see the Maharajah on the 8th November. Mr. Cox was at the Maharajah's bungalow when I called. It is quite possible that when Mr. Cox wrote to me I might have said that I had received no orders from Government. I never received any offical orders from Government. Mr. Cox might have stated that Government had allowed Radhabai to accompany him. I do not recollect if Mr. Cox informed me that Poona was selected at her instance. I do not recollect that Mr. Cox told me that the servants about the Maharajah were to be selected by her; nor that Radhabai was to superintend the Maharajah's cooking establishment, subject to medical instructions. Mr. Cox did not inform me that Radhabai was to be allowed to live with the Maharajah. The bungalow where the Maharajah had put up was not very large. There were about 4 or 5 rooms. I know to a certain extent the habits of native ladies of position; and it would not have been possible for Radhabai to have lived in the same bungalow with Messrs. Cox and Green. It was not an unreasonable request of Radhabai to ask the removal of Messrs. Cox and Green from that bungalow when she wanted to live with the Maharajah. I have no precise recollection that when Radhabai asked permission to live with the Maharajah, she wished that the gentlemen might live in tents pitched in the compound, if they chose. If Radhabai had been allowed to have charge of the Maharajah, it would have been the very worst thing for him. Possibly she would take the greatest interest in the recovery of the Maharajah, being his natural mother. The very first condition, I think, in the treatment of a patient like the Maharajah is his separation from all his old associates. I know so little of Radhabai that I cannot say whether she would be the worst person to be allowed to live with the Maharajah. I naturally concluded

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT.—We understand that a proposal has been made to the Lahore Municipality by an Electric Light Company to use the surplus power of the water-works engines to generate electricity to light the city and civil station. There are, as we know, two engines in the water-works' engine house, one being held in reserve, while the other is worked. If, however, but one engine is in use, it can, we hear, indicate a greater horse power than is required by the water-works, and this excess of power would be sufficient for the purposes of the electric company. If this is so, it would be both easy and economical to place an additional drum on the driving shaft of each engine and connect it by a belt with the electrical machinery; and in case one engine failed, the other would be ready to do the double work. As the chief expense in introducing the electric light is connected with the necessary engines, if these can be hired at a moderate rent money will be saved to the Electric Light Company, and, on the other hand, the Municipality will get an increase of revenue. We have no doubt the matter will be carefully considered by the Municipality, and trust that some such scheme as that we have hinted at may be found practicable.—Civil and Military Gazette.

COURT-MARTIAL ON A NATIVE OFFICER.

At a General Court-Martial, assembled at Dera Ghazi Khan, on the 3rd February, Jemadar Maha Singh, of the 5th Regiment Punjab Cavalry, was arraigned on the following charges:—(1st.)—Behaving in a manner unbecoming the position and character of a Native officer, in having at Rajanpore, on or about the 29th July, 1881, caused to be written and sent to the Brigadier General Commanding the Punjab Frontier Force, a petition with reference to an application to resign his commission, which he, the prisoner, had submitted on or about the 11th July, 1881, which petition contained an accusation against his Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Colonel Frederick Hammond, in substance as follows:—"Lately some one has been backbiting me to Colonel Hammond, my Commanding Officer, on account of which he has demanded my resignation. According to his orders, without any excuses, I give my resignation, though no fault can be proved against me, to which I can attribute my dismissal. For my rights, I petition that your honour will refuse my resignation, and do me justice, and exchange me into another regiment." The said accusation that his Commanding Officer had demanded his, the prisoner's, resignation being false, as he, the prisoner, well knew the permission to send in the said application to resign having been granted by his Commanding Officer, only after he, the prisoner, had, of his own free will, on two separate occasions applied for it; (2nd.)—With having preferred the petition mentioned in the foregoing charge direct to the General Officer Commanding the Punjab Frontier Force, instead of through the Commanding Officer of his troop, as required by the 167th Article of War. The Court found the prisoner guilty of the first charge, and not guilty of the second charge preferred against him. He was sentenced to be dismissed from the service. The proceedings and sentence have been confirmed by H. E. the Commander-in-Chief.

FOR A PAYMENT OF ABOUT FIFTEEN RUPEES a MONTH a man of good health, aged 20, may secure in the Standard Life Office a sum of FIVE THOUSAND RUPEES, payable at the age of 55, or at death should it happen beforehand. It is an advantage to effect Provisions of this nature EARLY IN LIFE, as by delay the rate of subscription increases; death may occur before the provision is effected; or health may fail and render the life ineligible for assurance.—Standard Life Office, Bombay, Jan. 1882.
